As Pinellas Community Foundation (PCF) moves forward to 50 years of your support, we are proud to announce that donor funds reached nearly $100 million in the past year. Rather than memorializing a successful past, we wish to demonstrate our enduring commitment to fulfill your philanthropic vision to impact future community needs.

In addition to the PCF grant offerings, we decided to delve into one specific social issue each year to better understand a particular community need, and how it is currently being addressed in our county. In 2017, the issue was food insecurity among children. When we learned that more than 36,000 children in Pinellas don’t have enough to eat, we could not rest!

Childhood hunger prompted us to turn outward, embrace partnerships and raise community awareness. Together, we promote change for the better.

We have learned many of the concerns regarding youth also exist in our older generation. PCF is now exploring the vitality and vulnerability of our aging population, which we refer to as the ACT II generation.

Again, we are embracing the expertise of community partners who are guiding us toward a better understanding of this growing segment in Pinellas. As you read this PCF Community Report, take time to absorb the rich tapestry of experience our ACT II generation brings to life in our community.

The deep-seated values demonstrated in this report by the ACT II generation are evident in the fundamental tenets of the Pinellas community, as well as the Pinellas Community Foundation. They are the values that drive civic responsibility, integrity and community outreach. While we look forward to making a difference over the next 50 years, we recognize that the past 49 would not be possible without the continuing dedication and generosity of donors like you. Thank you for your trust and your vision.

Thank You to Our Volunteers

Pinellas Community Foundation is grateful for the time volunteers give to extend our presence in the community. You help make things happen.

Thank You to Our Convening Partners

Reaching out to the community to find solutions to local issues, Pinellas Community Foundation found numerous collaborative civic, nonprofit and private partners to work together. PCF views this collaboration critical to improving the quality of life in Pinellas.

In Gratitude for Your Help

Thank You Regions for your continued support by underwriting the cost of printing this report.

ACT II
FEATS OF LIFE

It is not newsworthy to say that Pinellas County is exploding with an older generation that will require an infusion of human resources and creative thinkers. It will also mean an expansion of social services to accommodate the changing physical and mental needs of our aging population.

ACT II is the summation of this opportunity and need. It defines the generation that defended our country through a world war, developed the polio vaccine, built the film and television industry, took us to the moon, and introduced computer technology and leisure to us.

In Pinellas, we live among some of the extraordinary individuals who created this strong history.

Everyone Has a Story

PCF is collecting inspiring stories about local ACT II residents. Excited about storytelling, we wish to share some of the stories so you too can appreciate how important it is to support our growing age-friendly community.

With the shocking number of 36,000 children in Pinellas who are food insecure, in 2017 Pinellas Community Foundation (PCF) focused on solutions for childhood hunger.

Entering community conversations, PCF identified some of the causes of childhood hunger and the current programs in place.

In response to the need, PCF partnered with the Juvenile Welfare Board, Pinellas County Schools and the Public Defender’s office to create the PCF Childhood Hunger Relief Fund. With a dollar-for-dollar match from the Pinellas Community Foundation, over $20,000 was collected. The first grants to fight childhood hunger were issued to five local charities.

ACT II: SCENE ONE

FEATS OF CAREGIVING

When you walk into the home shared by Ted and his Aunt Shirley, you are greeted by an atmosphere of love. Since Shirley, 90, was diagnosed with Alzheimer’s disease eight years ago, Ted, 78, has selflessly cared for his aunt.

A few years ago, Ted recognized that Shirley was growing lethargic. For Christmas, he surprised her with a deer head chihuahua named Sparky. Sparky and Shirley fell in love immediately.

“She was so happy her face lit up,” says Ted. “Sparky brought her back that life, happiness and joy that she was missing.”

“To be a caregiver you have to have a sincere interest in helping someone,” says Ted. “You have to be interested in keeping your loved one healthy and happy; whether in pain or feeling down. That’s what caregiving is all about. It’s like being a mother to a baby.”

Caregiving is no easy task. Just ask Sandy Waite (above) and Sue Graham (not shown), who provide full-time care for their mothers.

“Caregiving is the hardest job I’ve ever done,” says Sandy. “It’s all-consuming.”

Area Agency on Aging of Pasco-Pinellas, Inc. (AAAPP) provides respite care for people like Sue, Sandy and Ted. Respite care allows them to get out of the house and have some time for themselves, knowing that their loved ones are being cared for at home.

To learn more about Ted, Shirley and Sparky go to pinellascf.org/ted

“We get hundreds of calls from people seeking incontinence supplies,” says Ann-Marie Winter, executive director of AAAPP. A $10,000 operating grant from PCF helped start the first adult diaper bank in the area.
Lighthouse of Pinellas
ACT II: SCENE TWO
FEATS OF INDEPENDENCE

The first thing you notice about Sherwood White, 81, is his energy and personality. Sherwood lives his life with gusto, and he’s eager to share those positive vibes with everyone he meets. Lucky visitors to his home might be treated to a wonderful rendition of “Can’t Help Falling In Love” à la Elvis Presley—complete with the hair, glasses and swagger.

Many can’t tell he can’t see as well as he used to see. When his sight started to fail, he was unable to continue operating his business. That’s when Lighthouse of Pinellas, a Pinellas Community Foundation grant recipient, stepped in to provide support. With the help of tools and instruction from Lighthouse, Sherwood was able to set up his business at home. He uses a variety of tools that enlarge images and screens, and he uses audio cues to help him work and play.

“Through the Lighthouse, I was able to set up everything here in my home,” says Sherwood. “I had to learn how to use the tools Lighthouse provided, but I had an outstanding instructor.”

“The National Eye Institute predicts that 1 in 3 Americans over the age of 65 will be faced with a vision-impairing eye disease,” says Kimberly Church, president of Lighthouse of Pinellas.
If you go to the Leepa-Rattner Museum of Art on the Tarpon Springs campus of St. Petersburg College, you might benefit from a guided tour with a docent like Gail, Sonia or Kimen. They are all volunteer docents at the museum. And they love it.

Docents are tour guides and educators, and they take their responsibility seriously. For them, the works of art displayed in the museum are more than just beautiful paintings with interesting trivia.

“I found that art is a pathway to myself,” says Gail. “What is most interesting to me is learning the inspiration of the artist, how people are affected by art and what makes people fall in love with art.”

The Pinellas Community Foundation supports arts and cultural organizations that promote vitality among older adults in the local community. Ask any of the docents, and they will tell you that volunteering at the museum keeps them young.

“The docents of the Leepa-Rattner Museum bring visitors nuggets of information about the art,” says Director Ann Larsen. “It’s these nuggets that make the art come alive.”

ACT II: SCENE FOUR

FEATS OF GUMPTION

Stepping into Rene’s living room, you can feel the warmth — just like your favorite grandmother’s home. Rene stands less than 5 feet tall, and her welcome is enveloping. However, you might not recognize her strength and bravery when you first meet her.

Born and raised Jewish in Czechoslovakia, Rene is a Holocaust survivor. She was separated from her parents at Auschwitz at age 16. Sadly, her parents did not survive.

Rene and her sister, Ana, did survive Auschwitz only to be sent to a slave labor camp in Germany. Toward the end of the war, Nazi soldiers hid during the continuous bombings by the Allied forces. During one of these bombings, Rene, her sister and two others took the opportunity to successfully escape.

Today, Rene lives alone but has the benefit of many support services from Gulf Coast Jewish Family and Community Services, a Pinellas Community Foundation grant recipient.

At 92, having been blessed with a loving husband, five children, 12 grandchildren, six great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren, Rene doesn’t dwell on her early life but works to make sure the world does not forget it.

To learn more about Rene’s story, visit pinellascf.org/rene.

“I tell my story because people say this didn’t happen, but I’m here to tell them it did,” says Rene.
Donor Profile: Gail Gamble
FEATS OF ARTISTRY AND COMMUNITY

Gail Gamble walks through the Dunedin Fine Art Center (DFAC) with the ease of being at home. In truth, it is like a second home to her.

Art has always been relevant to Gail, a celebrated pastels artist. Since moving to Pinellas in the late ’70s with her husband, Chip, she’s enjoyed being a part of the local art community.

Gail’s work has been displayed and sold at DFAC. She also serves on the Board of Directors. “Chip and I both feel good about being able to volunteer and support the DFAC because we love it here so much,” says Gail.

Gail and Chip Gamble are longtime members of the Pinellas Community Foundation, and they recently started a fund to support local causes.

Funds of Pinellas Community Foundation

The Pinellas Community Foundation (PCF) helps individuals, families and businesses create a legacy. PCF offers several personalized options to support your philanthropic goals with a fund named according to your wishes. You may receive specific tax benefits in the year you begin the fund.*

Restricted Funds

Creating your endowment may seem challenging; however, PCF will work with you and your financial and legal advisors to determine the organization(s) and purposes you wish to benefit through your fund. PCF manages all distribution of funds to make your plans are fulfilled anywhere within the United States.

Donor Advised Funds

It is like having your own foundation, but much easier. You select the charitable projects or organizations to support, and PCF will manage investments and distributions for you.

Unrestricted Funds

You may wish to contribute to solutions for Pinellas County’s ever-changing and most compelling needs. PCF works with the community to identify the most effective solutions, funding them through strategic grant-making, year after year.

Field of Interest Funds

Perhaps you have a cause or issue to which you would like to make a difference. The experienced PCF staff will identify, evaluate and propose the most qualified organizations to match your personal interests.

Scholarships

You can help deserving students further their education by directing a fund to support a specific school, level of education or field of study. The scholarship is offered under the name you select and through the school you select.

Woman of Distinction: Sallie Parks

FEATS OF COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

If you need a dose of inspiration and empowerment, look no further than Sallie Parks. Sallie has been a community leader in Pinellas County for over 50 years, serving as a lobbyist for St. Petersburg College, a commissioner for Pinellas County and the first executive director of the Pinellas County Arts Council. She was also named the Woman of Distinction by the Girl Scouts of West Central Florida.

With great appreciation, the staff and board of Pinellas Community Foundation is proud to say that Sallie is also a longtime member of the Board of Governors.

“Giving back is important, but really, I think of it as an investment in the community,” says Sallie. “We want to have a strong community, a safe community and a fun community to live in.”

With her strong record of community involvement, Sallie Parks is a role model for all citizens of Pinellas County, including members of the ACT II generation.
